

The 2nd Ostrava Onomastic Meeting EVENT

on Place Names as a Mirror of Political Developments in Modern European Society 1848–2018

Monday, 23 April 2018

Conference location
University of Ostrava
Building „B“
Českosobotská Street 16
Ostrava
Czech Republic

8:30–10:00 Registration

9:30 Opening speech

10:00–12:00 Session 1

10:00–10:30 Terhi Ainiala (Helsinki)

Street names in Helsinki: reflections on ideological and linguistic changes

10:30–11:00 Michal Místecký (Ostrava)

Political colonization quantified: urbanonymy landscape seen as a network of street-sign posts

11:00–11:30 Sergey Goryaev (Ekaterinburg)
Roman Razumov (Yaroslavl)

Church names in the urban toponymy (on Russian materials)

11:30–12:00 Michal Orleanski (Warsaw)

Political changes and naming of public spaces in Polish towns 1989–2017

12:00–13:30 Lunch break

13:30–14:00 Cake and coffee

14:00–16:00 Session 2

14:00–14:30 Václav Lábus (Liberec)

Some remarks on the changes of place names in the former Sudetenland: a case study of the of the toponym of Bramberk / Krásný

14:30–15:00 Tereza Klemensová (Ostrava)

Böhmisch Gasse, Schillerstrasse, Titova, Školní – one street, many names. urbanonymy in the Czech borderlands during 20th century

15:00–15:30 Roberto Fontanot (Trieste)

The italianization of place names in occupied Yugoslavia during WWII

15:30–16:00 Justyna Walkowiak (Poznań)

Names as covert affirmation of identity: on some propagandistic urbanonyms of the post-war western borderlands in Poland

16:00–16:30 Cake and coffee

16:30–18:00 Session 3

16:30–17:00 Karel Střelec (Ostrava)

Stalingrad Pub or Hitler's? Representation of ideological changes of toponyms in contemporary Czech literature

17:00–17:30 Jana Davidová Glogarová
Jaroslav David (Ostrava)

Thematization of place names in Czech opinion journalism: Czech exile politician's speeches between 1938 and 1945

17:30–18:00 Žaneta Dvořáková (Prague)

Polná – a toponym that became a symbol

18:30 Onomastic party

2018

OOME

Tuesday, 24 April 2018

9:00–10:30 Session 1

9:00–9:30 Vladislav Alpatov (Moscow)

New Routine vs Cambridge: values in desiderative place-names in Soviet and post-Soviet Russia

9:30–10:00 Liudmyla Kravchenko (Kyiv)

Renaming in the modern Ukrainian urbanonymicon

10:00–10:30 Ágnes Erőss (Budapest)

The relevance of locality in the politics of place naming: the case of Berehove, a multiethnic border town

10:30–11:00 Cake and coffee

11:00–12:30 Session 2

11:00–11:30 Gabriel Rožai (Banská Bystrica)

Regional speleonymy from the viewpoint of ethnic and lingual contacts (with examples of speleonyms in the Slovak Karst)

11:30–12:00 Pavel Štěpán (Prague)

Collectivization and nationalization of agriculture in Czechoslovakia: changes of rural landscape – and namescape?

12:00–12:30 Marzena Źemejda-Zybura (Częstochowa)

History of the Kruszyna commune community closed in field names

12:30–13:30

Lunch break

13:30–14:00

Cake and coffee

14:00–16:00 Session 3

14:00–14:30 Christian Zschieschang (Leipzig)

Place names between three languages: the Sorbian, German and Polish toponymies of eastern Lusatia

14:30–15:00 Přemysl Mácha (Ostrava)

Identity, ethnicity and place names in the Czech-Polish borderlands

15:00–15:30 Patrik Tátrai
Ágnes Erőss (Budapest)

Contested toponymy: linguistic landscapes in multi-ethnic areas in Central and Eastern Europe

15:30–16:00 Olga Chesnokova (Moscow)

Basque toponymy of Spanish-speaking Latin America

16:00–16:15 Closing

17:30 Dolní Vítkovice open air technical museum

– Bolt Tower & Café tour